EMPTY TREASURY
FORCES CHICAGO
TO EXTREMITIES

Mayor Asks Council To Cut 2,479 Workers
From Payrolls

Chicago, Feb. 20.—(UP)—Chicago met the stark reality of an empty treasury today by moving toward elimination of 2,500 city employees and opening an intensive drive to obtain collection of $200,000,000 taxes.

Before an excited city council in the room where former Mayor William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson once staged a wild west circus, Mayor Anton J. Cermak acted to put the municipal government on a skeleton basis.

The Mayor recommended dropping every Police Sergeant on the force, every Fire Battalion Chief, 600 additional fire and policemen, all playground directors, all visiting nurses, all senior clerks, all section foremen, all street inspectors and hundreds of other employees bringing the total to 2,479, an annual saving of $6,345,000.

Says It's Just a Start
"And that, gentlemen," the Mayor said, "is just a start. The sooner taxpayers realize we can't function without money, the better off they'll be."

Stunned Aldermen promised immediate consideration with the prospect the wholesale reduction will be made within a few days.

Cermak reviewed the situation, pointing out the legislature's two-months' adjournment without passing the full Chicago relief program left the city with no money.

"We simply have no money," Cermak said. "I see little prospect of further extending the city's credit." City and county already have more than 600 millions in outstanding securities and owe millions on their payrolls including $30,000,000 to the teachers alone.

Further Cuts Coming
Further staff reductions of two to four thousand employees probably will be necessary in a few months, Cermak said. He forecast possible stoppage of street lighting, reduced water service and halting of street repairs and all construction projects.

A double-edged drive for funds was underway. The 1930 tax laws were being sent out. Legality of the 1930 assessment as well as those for 1928 and 1929 is questionable. The issue now is before the state Supreme Court after a County Court ruled the assessments voided by fraud and inequalities.

Appeals were made to the civic spirited citizens to pay now and avert more serious consequences of the financial crisis.

Lists of "public enemies" including names of the non-payers were made up. The city council voted to boycott firms with unpaid tax bills. One alderman suggested water be shut off in buildings on which taxes are delinquent. Councilmen recommended that unpaid taxes be deducted from bills of delinquent merchants and contractors to which the city owes money.

Cermak suggested removing police protection from delinquents.

SIGNS RELIEF MEASURE
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20.—(UP)—A measure giving Cook county taxpayers credit for money they pay or have paid on 1928, 1929 or 1930 taxes in the event a reassessment is made, went into effect today, having been signed yesterday by Governor L. L. Emmerson.

The measure, which became effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor, was introduced by Elmer Schnackenberg, Republican, Chicago, authorizing building and loan associations to borrow money for payment of withdrawals or maturities. It contained an emergency clause.

A measure introduced in the House by Richard Lyons, Republican, Mundelein, providing for the removal of minimum interest requirements of three per cent on deposits of funds of cities under contract of government.

The measure becomes effective immediately.

Two bills of the Governor's tax conference, permitting allowances to be made in county and municipalities' appropriations to cover the loss and cost of collecting taxes to be levied for the fiscal year and also the nonpayment of which real estate shall be forfeited to the state. The measures become effective immediately.

NELSON CHARGES
MAY BE DROPPED
IF BANK REOPENSReorganization Plans
In Waukegan Depend
On Procedure

Waukegan, Ill., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Though the defense of State Auditor Oscar Nelson wished him tried for conspiracy in the failure of the Waukegan State Bank, Lake county authorities announced indictments against him and five bankers would be dropped if the bank is reorganized and depositors of $1,200,000 are repaid.

The reorganization committee said yesterday the State Bank would be consolidated with the Waukegan National Bank within three weeks and reopened and Col. A. V. Smith, State's Attorney, declared he would nolle pross the charges against Nelson and the others provided the depositors are paid a 35 per cent dividend from the bank opens and the balance in two years.

David R. Joslyn, of Woodstock, chief of the Nelson defense said he would insist on a trial but added that "of course, if they claim a trial would obstruct attempts to reopen the bank, no one would want to do that." Auditor Nelson, ill at his home in Geneva, declined to comment.

Nelson has been tried and acquitted of misfeasance, a charge also growing out of the bank's closing.

The others facing charges of irregularities in their bank dealings are President Norman O. Geyer, of the closed bank; George Woodruff, former chairman, and William H. Miller, former vice president of the National Bank of the Republic of Chicago, and John Murray Connors, and Milton E. Smith, former vice president of the Waukegan bank.

Lee Co. Boy Gets
Trial With Browns

Ellsworth Hartley, who for the past two seasons has played second base and outfield position for George Weeber's St. Louis baseball team, will report for duty with the St. Louis Browns within a few days. Ward Miller of this city, who observed Hartley's performance on the diamond is responsible for securing a trial for the promising youngster with the Browns.

This morning received a letter from L. C. McEvoy, vice-president of the American baseball club, stating that Hartley has signed a contract for the 1932 season and had been ordered to report at the Wichita Falls training camp with the remainder of the squad.

Hartley is 22 years old and gives promise of becoming a big leaver. He was considered with many other youngsters for a trial with the Chicago Cubs at the Catalina island training camp this spring, but the Cub roster of players was filled and through the efforts of Miller, former Cub outfielder and for several years a member of major league teams, Hartley was recommended to the St. Louis Browns management and has been ordered to report for training.

STEWART WOMAN
VICTIM TRAGEDY
IN RESORT CITY

Miss Bertha Stewart Is Dead; Mother Probably Fatally Hurt

Miss Bertha Stewart, 68, of the Lee county village which derived its name from her ancestors, died at 7 o'clock last evening at St. Petersburg, Fla., from injuries received in a traffic accident Thursday while she and her aged mother, Mrs. Wesley Stewart, aged 80, were crossing a street in the Florida winter resort.

Mrs. Stewart received a broken leg, lacerations about the head and possible internal injuries, and it is feared that because of her age her injuries will also prove fatal.

H. B. Turner, driver of the car which ran down the two Lee county women, is being held by St. Petersburg authorities on a charge of reckless driving, pending the verdict of a coroner's inquest.

Miss Stewart and her mother left St. Petersburg for the winter, as has been their custom for several years. They made their home at the Brevard hotel in the resort city and a telephone conversation with G. W. Walters, manager of the hotel today, brought the information that physicians attending Mrs. Stewart fear she will not survive her injuries.

Miss Louisa May and M. D. Barnett of Rochelle, relatives of the Stewarts, went to Chicago last night, on receipt of word of the tragedy, and were scheduled to leave that city either by plane or train, whichever means of transportation would convey them to St. Petersburg the more speedily today to attend the inquest and to arrange for the funeral of Miss Stewart, whose body will be brought to Steward for burial.

Auto transport trucks returning to Chicago from Iowa and other western points, have been hauling empty beer cases and several of these have dropped off the trucks on the highways in this vicinity and on the streets of Dixon. Sheriff Fred Richardson, yesterday served notice on an Iowa trucking firm operating nine trucks through Dixon, over the Lincoln Highway, who are hauling the empty cases that drivers would be arrested and heavily fined for littering the paving with broken glass in Lee county.

Quart Jars Illegal:
Half-Gallons O. K.

Charles, S. C., Feb. 20.—(AP)—Federal Judge Ernest F. Cochran, in an order filed here, instructed that quart fruit jars seized here by a United States Marshal be destroyed as goods received under the prohibition law, but half gallon jars be returned to the owner, Ben B. Bodne, Inc.

Judge Cochran divided the large and varied stock of the Bodne establishment into two schedules, items on one declared forfeited and items on the other ordered returned.

One lot of hops was returned to Bodne but another was declared forfeited. Other articles ordered returned included flavors listed as dry vermouth, English dry moussignin, Manhattan cocktail, Martini cocktail, Queen Mary, sloe gin, Swedish punch, brandy, London dry, apricot, grenadine and peach cordial. Among the items ordered forfeited were funnels, gallon jars, paraphane, lemon extract, medicine droppers, test tubes and bottle openers.

The order was filed in a civil case growing out of the seizure of Bodne's stock last August.

Paw Paw Man Hurt
In Chicago Crash

DeKalb, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Gobel of Paw Paw is in the Waterman hospital suffering with a fractured collar bone, received Thursday in an accident in Chicago. Gobel was injured when a street car struck the automobile in which he was riding. The car was damaged in the crash but was repaired in time to allow it to be returned to Paw Paw Thursday evening.

Floyd Keene and Mr. Gobel were in Chicago Thursday buying cattle. They started to drive around a street car which was standing still and when directly in front of the street car, it started up, striking their automobile. Mr. Keene was not injured in the crash.

Mississippi Flood
Conditions Worse

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 20.—(AP)—The threat of the Mississippi river, builder and destroyer of the valley farm lands, increased today as rains swelled tributaries, already in flood. A crest of 49 feet, five above flood stage, was forecast for the Big River at Helena, Ark., today and the Mississippi rose a tenth to 33.7 feet at Memphis yesterday. It was out of its banks at many points through the lower valley and lapped at sand-bagged levee tops in the Mississippi delta.

In the delta, continued rains swelled the Tallahatchie, Coldwater and Yazoo rivers which have driven thousands from their homes since Christmas. The Red Cross, however, said the inland situation has improved and watched developments from the rising Mississippi before turning relief work over to local residents.

OUTLOOK FOR WEEK.
Chicago, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Weather outlook for the week beginning Monday, Feb. 22:

For the Region of the Great Lakes—Some snow at beginning of week and again toward middle; rather cold much of week.

For the Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys and the Northern Great Plains—Mostly fair and rather cold first half of week, with considerably below normal over northern sections; some precipitation with moderating latter half.

DRIVERS OF HUGE
TRUCKS ARRESTED AND FINED HERE

Warnings Of Officers
Have Gone Unheeded
In The Past

Truck drivers passing through Dixon and operating on state highways in this locality have been warned against speeding and reckless driving, the cause of many accidents. State Highway Officer Frank Tyne of this city has issued repeated warnings and yesterday afternoon started issuing tickets to offenders who failed to heed the orders.

Clark Jones of Sioux City, Iowa, was arrested at the Nachusa corners on the Lincoln Highway and brought to Dixon where he was assessed a fine of $5 and costs by Justice Grover Gehant on a charge of reckless driving. Jones was said to have driven his heavily loaded truck around other traffic at dangerous places on the highway.

Lawrence Foley of Nichols, Iowa, representing a livestock cooperative association of that place was arrested as he entered the city limits on the Lincoln Highway. Taken before Justice Gehant he was assessed a fine of $10 and costs on a speeding charge. The double-decked truck Foley was driving was exceeding 35 miles an hour on the state highway. It was charged. Both offenders were informed there was no desire to work a hardship on the truck drivers in this vicinity, but that warnings had not been heeded and arrests would follow where violations were found.

Auto transport trucks returning to Chicago from Iowa and other western points, have been hauling empty beer cases and several of these have dropped off the trucks on the highways in this vicinity and on the streets of Dixon. Sheriff Fred Richardson, yesterday served notice on an Iowa trucking firm operating nine trucks through Dixon, over the Lincoln Highway, who are hauling the empty cases that drivers would be arrested and heavily fined for littering the paving with broken glass in Lee county.

PLOT TO MURDER
POLITICAL RING
IN TEXAS FAILED

Rangers Arrest 15 Of the Alleged Plotters:
Seeks Others

McAllen, Tex., Feb. 20.—(UP)—Texas Rangers today held 15 men whom they charged with conspiring for the mass extermination of a rival political faction in an ambush slaying.

Rangers said the arrests were made only a few hours before plans to execute six prominent Hidalgo county Democrats leaders in a trap were to be carried out.

Among those held on charges of conspiracy to murder were two well known politicians and a Mexican whom officers said admitted he was to receive $500 for carrying out the ambush.

Those arrested included W. H. McClellan, former City Commissioner of Donna; E. J. Farnsworth, defeated candidate for the Board of Directors of the Donna Irrigation District; George R. Owen, Stokes Cheney, Luther Lepley, A. F. Dargel, Walter Van Allen and L. D. Schultz. Names of the others, including that of the Mexican, were withheld.

"It was a $10,000 job," Rangers quoted the Mexican as saying "but I agreed to do it for $500."

Sheriff Among Marked
Had the plot been carried to its conclusion Sheriff T. C. Gill, Hidalgo county officer, would have been one of those slain, the Rangers said.

Rangers named other marked victims as Walter J. Weaver, prominent Democrat attorney of Donna; Harry Ridgeway, manager of the Donna Irrigation District; and Wise Hooks, prominent politician. Names of more proposed victims were not revealed.

The Mexican confessed, Rangers said, that he was to lie in ambush as the six men visited an oil lease owned by Hooks and Weaver near Rio Grande City.

Armed with a rifle, which the Rangers interpreted as it was passed from one of the men held to the Mexican, the victims were to be picked off one by one and none allowed to escape.

Rangers believed the plot was inspired by fear certain political secrets were about to be revealed. What these secrets were, the officers would not conjecture. However several of those arrested were defeated in a recent fight for control of the Donna Irrigation District.

To Shift Blame
Rangers said the slayings were to be blamed on a group familiarly known as "The Old Regime" once headed by A. Y. Baker, deceased Sheriff. Scandals in Hidalgo county government two years ago were laid to this group and malfeasance charges placed against several officials.

This situation gained national attention, when a "good government" element in the Democratic party won control from the Baker faction. The six proposed victims were members of this good government group. Those held were not aligned with either faction.

A Baker group leader, Rangers indicated, revealed existence of the plot. Learning the plan to blame his faction, he gave officers his information.

Gov. Ross Sterling ordered Captain Frank Hamer, Capt. Albert Mace and three other Rangers here to investigate.

Officers said $50 already had been paid to the Mexican and that $450 had been deposited to his credit in a bank.

Last Princess
Of Hawaiian Race
Dead At Age of 53

ASSOCIATED PRESS (Times Wire World) PRINCESS KALANIANA'OLE

Honolulu, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The last of the Kamehamehas is gone. Mrs. J. Frank Woods, Princess Kalaniana'ole, died yesterday from the effects of a cerebral hemorrhage, at the age of 53.

The last direct descendant of Kamehameha the Great, who brought the Hawaiian Islands under a single government more than a century and a quarter ago, she has been seriously ill and her death was not unexpected.

She was twice widowed. As the wife of Prince Kuhio Kalaniana'ole she resided in Washington D. C., two decades ago, the Prince being Hawaii's delegate to Congress. He died in 1922. A little more than two years later she married J. Frank Woods, Kohala rancher, who died several years ago.

Princess Kalaniana'ole was not only a dignified and graceful woman, but also a quantity of munitions. Further they said this was not the first time they had discovered the Japanese using the American sector as a signalling base.

Shanghai, China Feb. 20.—(UP)—The Japanese announced the day's objectives had been completed, save for the taking of the Wusung forts. Dawn will bring further advances against these objectives, the announcement said.

Chinese had defended valiantly for more than 15 hours against the combined power of the Japanese a power that included attacks from the air, heavy guns, infantry, and lumbering tanks. They had defended for hours Kiangwan, losing and retaking the little village repeatedly, only to have the Japanese finally overpower the stout defense.

Shanghai, China Feb. 20.—(UP)—Lieutenant Gen. Kenkichi Uyeda's war machine bloodily pounded its way inch-by-inch through stubbornly resisting Chinese lines at Kiangwan today in the most terrific battle the world has seen since the Great War on the opening day of renewed onslaught upon Shanghai.

The earth literally shook and shivered with the terrible fury of the Japanese attack. Dozens of roaring airplanes rained showers of the most powerful bombs upon the well-covered Chinese trenches. And heavy artillery and big guns from the warships in the river laid down a red tempest of death and fire along a sixteen-mile front from Chapel to Wusung.

In the Kiangwan sector, where the Japanese tried desperately to puncture the Zig-Zag Chinese line, defended by two divisions of the crack troops of General Chiang Kai Shek, former Chinese President, the fighting was most severe. The Japanese threw their heaviest attack against this center, hoping to split the Chinese line and envelop both of its ends at Chapel and Wusung.

Conflicting Claims
Japanese naval officials announced shortly after noon that the Japanese had taken Kiangwan, but the Chinese immediately denied the claim, declaring they had pushed the Japanese back and overcome a fleet of their tanks with a hand grenade barrage.

Later in the day it appeared to observers that the Japanese were making a slow advance. The Japanese said Chinese artillery shells struck one of their destroyers in the river, killing a captain and five men.

Five shells fell in the International Settlement, landing in the area patrolled by the United States Marines, narrowly missing the Marines' billets and greatly endangering their position. Three Chinese were fatally wounded and others less seriously hurt by these shells. The shells were believed to have come from a Chinese battery in Chapel.

The battle began at 8:50 A. M., one hour and 50 minutes after the Japanese ultimatum expired. With the zero hour, Japanese airplanes

FOE IS VALIANT

They Fail To Oust Chinese
From Positions In Day Of Fighting

Shanghai, Sunday, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Japanese heavy artillery in Hong-kow Park began a terrific bombardment of the Chinese sector in Chapel early this morning.

The firing was heavier than it had been all day yesterday while the attack was concentrated on Kiangwan, half way between Chapel and Wusung.

The Chinese guns went into action immediately and Shanghai trembled to the cannonading.

Pounded all day long by Japan's big guns, the Chinese reserve lines were weakened this morning as Japanese infantry began a frontal attack and flanking movement against the front line in the Chapel sector.

There were hundreds of dead and wounded in the Chinese support lines after the long artillery bombardment and a series of air raids.

Early this morning the Japanese command announced a protest would be filed with the American Consulate against a raid by American Marines on a cotton mill near the American patrol lines where a number of Japanese soldiers were billeted.

Washington Birthday Dance Feb. 22

The Patrol Team of the White Shrine have been working very hard to have everything in readiness for their 43rd Washington's birthday party next Monday evening. This will be the only dancing party held anywhere near Dixon and with doubt will be the largest one held here this year. Over 50 tickets have been sold in Sterling alone. The hall has been beautifully decorated and everything is ready for this big event. As announced when the party was first planned, this is to be a semi-formal affair. Most of the dancing parties which are being held throughout the country on this date are costume parties, so many will enjoy this party in formal or semi-formal dress.

"The Fire Prince" Delightful Event

A capacity attendance at last night's performance enjoyed one of the best productions in recent years of the high school glee clubs in their presentation of "The Fire Prince." The comedy will be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock.

The beautiful setting in the land of Pantoufou was like the opening of a fairy story book. Brilliant playing by the characters, wearing pretty costumes, made the evening spent in the South Central Auditorium a worth while one. The love interest of the event centered around Prigio, portrayed by Howard Crews, and Helen Deveny as Rosa, the Spanish ambassador's daughter. Martin Tayman played the difficult role of the diplomat, Alphonse and Enrico, Robert Fulmer and Joe Beech, are Prigio's popular brothers. Melinda and Kathleena were excellently enacted by Lois Weizel and Helen Krug. The King of Pantoufou was a mighty monarch in the person of Donald Lerdall. Tom Mosher was fine as Benson, the trusted butler of the household. Pauline Conrad as queen of the mythical land. After a series of unfortunate events, Prigio, aided by gifts of the fairies, kills the Fire-drake, which had scourged the land with heat. After using the Magic Wand to restore to life his deceased brothers, Prigio comes into good favor with his father, the King and also with Rosa.

The lines were well given and much laughter resulted from the snappy, witty dialogue. Chorus numbers with pretty costumes added to the beauty and magnificence of the King's land.

Classes Enjoy Supper And Meeting

The Men's Bible class, the Young Men's Bible class and the Teeners' class of the Bethel Sunday school held a roast pork picnic supper in the basement of the Bethel church Friday evening. After a delicious supper F. W. Beckingham read from the Scriptures, followed by W. T. Greig who led in prayer. The feature of the evening was the address by Rev. W. W. Marshall of the Baptist church, his subject being "Adventures in Soul Winning." Rev. Marshall's address carried the audience from the scenes and incidents of his early manhood in Scotland to pictures of soldier life and soul winning in Gibraltar and into spectacular and gripping experiences of conversions and Christian life testimonies in Morocco. The address was educational and inspiring and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Everyone testified to this fact by a rising vote of appreciation.

Accessories adroitly pay homage to the Washington bi-centennial this spring by reflecting a Colonial inspiration. Steel buckles appear as one of the smartest trimmings for pumps, and belts of leather. A chic bag and belt of patent leather have a modern version of a simple Colonial steel buckle; a classic opera pump uses a cut steel buckle with a colored backing to match the frock with which it is worn; a tongue pump, with a distinct Colonial flavor, heightens its period design of using a square cut steel buckle for decoration.

Memorial Meeting for Frances Willard by W.C.T.U. on Wednes.

The Dixon W. C. T. U. held its annual Frances E. Willard Memorial meeting Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 17 in the Methodist church. This day marked the 34th anniversary of her death.

For the opening the national slogan, "Observance and Enforcement, not Repeal," was sung with enthusiasm.

The Crusade hymn, "Give to the Winds Thy Fears," etc. and the flag salute followed.

Miss Flora Seals conducted the devotional reading, Prov. 14:1 and Matt. 15:21-28. She gave some very helpful thoughts on the building of life and character, which requires much faith and persistence.

During the business session, the president spoke of the membership campaign now on which continues until July 1. All who secure five new members will be known as "Keepers of the Flag." For the last four years new members have been gained at the rate of 1000 per week not including men, who are honorary members.

The union voted to donate $5.00 toward the special state fund for forward work.

Their aim is to have all membership dues paid by March 3rd. Mrs. Sam Peiton, 523 First street, is treasurer.

An invitation has been extended to our organization from the Coppen Woman's Club, to attend their meeting on Monday night, March 14, when Mrs. Gouley, State Chairman of Law Enforcement in the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs will speak on Prohibition.

"The Triumphant Life of Frances E. Willard" was the subject of an inspiring address given by Mrs. J. Franklin Young. She said:

"Mrs. Willard's heredity gave her a remarkable background for her great career. She had an understanding mother and an education which had prepared her for her work. Her public life and the history of the W. C. T. U. are almost synonymous. She traced very clearly the progress of Miss Willard's great work, how she was an example and inspiration while she lived and still is touching lives.

She was not the founder of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, but she was the first to see in it an opportunity to unite women in an organization which should make it possible for them to exert their influence as a unit not only in regard to temperance but in connection with other questions that affect the home and the nation, and it became the largest society ever organized, conducted and controlled exclusively by women.

She first became president of the Chicago Union, and corresponding secretary of the state union in 1874.

Dixonites Attend Polo I. O. O. F. Meeting

One hundred and fifty Odd Fellows gathered at the Polo I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening to welcome Thomas P. Fields of Monmouth, Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. in the state of Illinois. The large assemblage included Odd Fellows from Dixon, Oregon, Mount Morris, Forreston and other surrounding cities as well as a large turn out of Polo members.

Past Grand Master Robbins of Dixon was also among the guests present. The first degree was conferred on one candidate, Russell Cheeseman, by the Polo degree team. A most enjoyable evening was spent by the lodge members and at a late hour a delicious supper was served.

Fifteenth Wedding Anniversary Honored

A very charming 6 o'clock dinner was given Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCleary honoring the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCleary.

When the guests of honor arrived they were delightfully surprised to see a group of friends and relatives present to help celebrate the event.

The dining table was lovely with red hearts and cupid in keeping with Valentine day and a most artistically decorated wedding cake served as a centerpiece.

A very enjoyable impromptu program was given during the evening by the younger members of the party.

Some beautiful crystal pieces were presented the host and hostess, accompanied by an original poem which was very appropriate to the occasion.

The evening was a very pleasant one and all joined in congratulating Mr. and Mrs. McCleary and extended best wishes for the future.

So. Dixon Unit At McCleary Home

The South Dixon Unit of the Home Bureau was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Harold McCleary on February 16th, with a good attendance.

The meeting was opened by all singing America. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll call answered by Valentine verses. The very interesting lesson on "Entertaining and How to Entertain," was ably given by Mrs. R. McCleary one of the leaders being unable to attend to give the lesson.

A demonstration on the making of different kinds of sandwiches was given by Mrs. Roy McCleary, which were very dainty and very tasty.

The dining room table was very prettily decorated in keeping with St. Valentines day.

Another demonstration on setting the table for a family dinner was given by Mrs. William Hoyle and Mrs. Carl Ackert. The following verses. The very interesting lesson program was given:

A vocal solo by little Gordon McCleary; a vocal solo by Mrs. A. Ackert, and a recitation and harmonica solo by Robert McCleary.

At the close of the meeting tasty refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next place of meeting will be with Mrs. Peter Hoyle.

then corresponding secretary of the national and in 1879 was elected president of the national organization which she held until God called her in 1898. She founded the World's W. C. T. U. in 1888 and became its president.

We are glad to do honor to a woman who accomplished so much in a comparatively short life of 59 years. She was undoubtedly the best known and most beloved woman in our nation at the time of her home going.

M.W. (r "39T -bgk mfw mhrd mf The musical numbers on the program were much enjoyed. Miss Jessie Weyant played with much expression, Liebestraum by Liszt, and Mrs. Archie Klein sang two solos, "Hold Fast" and "Go Forward," and a new prohibition song, "Awake Ye Christian Voters." Her piano accompanist was Mrs. Sarah Reis.

A short article "Honoring a Memory," was read by Mrs. W. D. Hartzell.

Each year, on the Sunday nearest Feb. 17th, the first flowers are placed in the First Methodist Episcopal church in Evanston, by the National W. C. T. U. in memory of Miss Willard's "heavenly birthday." She was a member of that church for nearly four decades and in it a beautiful stained glass window has been placed commemorating her life.

Miss Morgan spoke a few words on other memorials. The world is dotted with homes, churches, schools, hospitals, community centers, and countless young men and women who bear her name. A portrait bust has recently been unveiled in the "Hall of Nations," Ashbury Park, N. J., and a white marble bust by the sculptor Roger Burnham is to be placed in the new State House at Los Angeles. The expense, $2,500, is to be defrayed by the Southern California W. C. T. U.

The Dixon Union has been a memorial to Miss Willard for over 56 years. Its real name is "The Frances Willard W. C. T. U. of Dixon," for she it was who organized it on July 6, 1875 in the Sunday school room of the old Methodist church and it has "carried on" ever since.

But the memorial of the greatest value to humanity today is the eighteenth amendment, for the triumph of which she worked and sacrificed to the end of her earthly career. And we, her followers, who desire today to honor her, can most fittingly do so by contributing to the Willard Memorial fund, which is used for the extension of the principles and work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the United States and its possessions, Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico and Virgin Islands. The national treasurer says: "In all probability we have more to show for the investment of money in those outposts this past year than ever before."

After the offering was taken the meeting closed with the W. C. T. U. benediction. During the social hour dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Sodergren and committee, Mrs. Anna Bennett and Miss Carrie Swarts.

The next meeting will be held at the same place, Wednesday, March 16th.

Prairieville Circle Community Supper

The Prairieville Social Circle mid-winter picnic in the form of a community supper was held at the Prairieville church Wednesday evening. By 6:45 the yard was packed full of cars. Three long tables were spread in the basement for the accommodation of the crowd, who filed around the fourth table where a variety of food equal to an ordered dinner greeted the hungry crowd. Some time was consumed by this feature of the evening as there were ninety-seven present. Everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves. Supper over, the tables were quickly cleared and chairs were arranged so that all might be comfortable, during the program which follows: with Mrs. Roman Wolf, social chairman in charge.

Battle Hymn of the Republic—Audience; Mrs. Wilbur Myers, accompanying.

Reading—Mrs. Smart Learns to skate—Mildred Reed.

Encore—Jacob's Lament. Whispering Hope—Gill's chorus. Instrumental duet—Midnight Fire Alarm. Kathryn and Frances Runt, cornet and clarinet duet.

Yield Not to Temptation and Long, Long Ago.—Frederick brothers. Reading and encore—Mrs. Carrie Straw.

Instrumental duet—Martha and Edna LeFevre.

Vocal solo and encore—Marion Myers.

America—Audience.

Mrs. Helen Overcash and Mrs. Ruth Rutt, both ladies being on the program were absent. At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Bertha Frederick, president of the Circle announced the next meeting to be with Mrs. Carrie Straw, March 2.

TO OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING MONDAY—

Stockton, Feb. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bates will observe their golden wedding anniversary at their home near Lena on Monday, Feb. 22.

Mr. Bates is seventy-two years of age, and Mrs. Bates, who was Miss Hattie Covington before her marriage on Feb. 22, 1882, is sixty-nine.

Two children, Charles Bates of Lena and Ethel Bates Rindeschacher, residing west of Stockton, will be among those attending the celebration Monday.

ANGORA WOOL USED FOR SPORTS HATS—

Washington.—(AP)—Small crushable sports hats of angora wool are finding a place in the capital woman's spring and summer wardrobe. They come in handy for last days of winter too. The narrow brims are stitched and the hats are made up in a variety of colors to match the sports outfits.

SOUTH DIXON COMMUNITY CLUB TO MEET—

The South Dixon Community Club will meet Wednesday with Mrs. Avery Llevan on the Dutch Road.

UNTENANTED BY HELEN WELSHIMER

Your chair still held the imprint
Deep-cushioned where you sat,
And in the wardrobe I could see
Your overcoat and hat.

Your pipe spilled careless ashes
Across the fire-bright floor,
The lilac bushes you had watched
Were blowing at the door.

I cried the while I packed them
To store in memory . . .
Oh, well, I guess you never knew
That you lived there with me.

Wawokiye Club Party a Success

The Wawokiye club card party given Friday evening at the Sheffield hall in Grand Detour, was largely attended.

Prizes were given for 500 and 1000.

Mrs. Wiley Shippert and Gene Hufford won high score in 500.

Miss Dorothy Ambrose and Monte Weeks won the consolation prizes.

In pitch Foster Reese and Claude Gwynn won the high scores. Earl Wernick and Clyde Cox won the consolation prize. Mrs. Dewitt Warner was awarded the quilt.

Chicken sandwiches, coffee, pickles and doughnuts were served.

BETTER DAYS ARE COMING.

The Walgreen drug store chain issues a bulletin called the Pepper Pod for the many employees of the big organization and in the January issue Charles R. Walgreen, head of the concern, has a front page editorial over his name which reads as follows:

We are passing through the most unusual depression in the history of our country. It is further emphasized by the fact that it so closely follows our greatest peak of prosperity. General conditions have been, and still are, serious. Nearly everyone has a feeling of concern. Every person, every group, every class of society is affected.

We, as individuals and a group, can keep ourselves in a happier and healthier state of mind by adjusting ourselves to conditions as they are. Self-pity, pride and vanity will not lighten our burdens. More than ever, we need to be hopeful, energetic, and ambitious, for, after all, present conditions are going to improve.

It is my opinion that we will—just how soon, I cannot say, but we will—enter into one of the longest era of prosperity that we have ever enjoyed. So be courageous and patient. Be your best! Do your best! And pass this spirit on to our customers. Give them cheer; encourage them. They like it; we all do! A smile is like a ray of sunshine on a dark day. It is even more helpful than the medicine you sell, and what is more, its benefits are contagious.

And whatever you do, do not acknowledge defeat, for remember: As surely as the sun rises—BETTER DAYS ARE COMING.

C. R. WALGREEN.

MEMORIES IN KEEPSAKES.

Buried treasure is usually a cache of gold, silver or precious stones. But excavators who were preparing a site for a new art museum in Portland, Ore., the other day turned up treasure trove of a different kind—some mouldy old chests that had been buried 50 years ago by members of a high school graduating class beneath a tree that the graduates had planted.

When the chests were opened, a revealing light was thrown on the kind of things, valueless in themselves, that people can prize—especially young people.

There were, for instance, a little blue vase, a tiny cup and saucer, a little locket containing a lock of someone's brown hair, a small model of the ship Constitution, a marble, a miniature horseshoe, a handful of old coins, a newspaper of the year 1882—and so on, through a long list of little trinkets each one of which had its own significance, its own value, when the chest was buried 50 years ago.

It isn't hard to imagine just how gladly the people who buried those things would reclaim them now. After half a century the commonest object can take on deep meaning. That locket with its wisp of hair, for instance; what gawky high school lad, prizing his keepsake from the world's sweetest girl, put it there? And where is he now? Did he marry her—or did each forget the other before two more years had passed?

Most of us, probably, have a secret store of odds and ends of that kind, things that would look very odd and grotesque, if anyone else saw them, but that we ourselves cherish deeply. There is usually a faded dance program or two, a sheaf of crumbling snapshots—containing, always, pictures of one or two people whose very names we have forgotten—an oddly-colored pebble that commemorates some summer day's stroll along a lake, some yellowed theater stubs; and to no one but ourselves would the collection mean anything.

But each of us has to fight his own battle with time, which devours youth and hope; and with our oddments of keepsakes—like those unearthed in Oregon—we keep old memories alive.

There is little need for me to comment in appreciation of the 11 years of service you (Mellon) have given to your country. I know of no more magnificent tribute that has come to a public servant than the universal expressions of the press . . . toward you during the past few years.—President Hoover.

By no standard of common sense, ordinary decency, humane emotionalism, or tumultuous tenderness, is there any reason why a thoroughly established criminal should be turned loose to prey upon society.—Charles Francis Coe, Crime Expert and Author.

There never has been a clearer case of international aggression and violation of the covenants (than at Shanghai).—Dr. W. W. Yen, Chief Chinese Delegate to Geneva Conference.

This whole nation will respond either in time of peace or war, by sacrifice and endeavor or by arms, and bear any hardship imposed, no matter how severe, whenever danger assails the republic.—Congressman B. M. Chipfield of Illinois.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

On, on the caterpillar went. It seemed that hours and hours were spent in speeding 'cross the bumpy ground. The Tinsies hung on tight. Soon Duncy said, "This is a thrill if we don't run into a spill. I wonder if we'll land some place before the dark of night."

"Well, we'll just wait. Then we'll find out. Gee, if a lot of stars are out I wouldn't mind a night ride. It would be a pretty sight. We'd all take turns at sleeping sound and one could guard and look around. I'm feeling better now because there seems no cause for fright."

The afternoon soon passed away and then came on the end of day. They watched the sun sink o'er a hill and soon the moon rose high. "Ah, what a wondrous night this is," cried one. "A sight I wouldn't miss! The moon is winking down on us from 'way up in the sky.'"

Then everyone fell fast asleep. This was because they couldn't keep their little eyes wide open. They were tired as they could be. They dreamed and snored all through the night and woke up with the morning light. "Come on," cried Duncy. "Let's look out and see what there's to see."

He stuck his head out of the top and promptly shouted, "We must stop! We're coming to a precipice. Oh, my what can we do?" And then he spied a handy tree and to the rest cried, "Follow me. I'm going to grab a big tree limb and so can all of you."

This was a very clever hunch, and it's what saved the Tiny bunch. The bug went underneath the tree just as they leaped in air. Each Tiny caught hold safe and sound. They watched the big bug leave the ground and topple down the precipice. My what an awful scare!

(The Tinsies meet Old Man Blow in the next story.)

INNSBRUCK RAIDED

On Feb. 20, 1918, Allied aviators raided and bombed the Austrian town of Innsbruck, scoring many direct hits and killing many Austrian soldiers.

German troops continued their advance into Russian territory despite the announcement by Moscow that Russia was ready to submit.

In Champagne, French troops broke through to the third German line of defense on a front of nearly a mile. More than 150 prisoners and several machine guns were captured.

German forces on the western front, augmented by constantly arriving divisions from the Russian zone were very plainly preparing a tremendous blow at the Allied lines.

In Palestine British forces drove the Turks back more than three miles east of Jerusalem.

(Read Matthew 5:1-16)

If now we have truly found the Light, and have learned to let it shine upon our lives, we are ready to become ourselves the radiant centers of a luminous influence. It is not right that we should be absorptive merely. We must give back the glory that has entered our souls. Our task is that of serving as reflectors of the great illumination which came to us through Christ.

We are, potentially, the Light of the world. As the Psalmist says, "The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord." If so, our business is to shine! Nothing that anyone can do is so important as to radiate from his whole being the beauty and the joy which he has himself caught from contact with God in Christ.

West Brooklyn News

By Henry Gehant

West Brooklyn—Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Zinke motored to Dixon Monday where they visited an ear specialist. Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Gehant and Andrew Gehant motored to Amboy Monday where they visited at the home of Mrs. Melinda Edwards who has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sheridan were the recipients of a miscellaneous shower at the school hall Tuesday afternoon. There were some over a hundred of the ladies who gathered and bestowed handsome and useful gifts upon the recent bride.

Amel Vincent has leased the Schmitt farm south of town which will be vacated by John Maheffey, March first, when he takes possession of the Conkey farm. We are pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Vincent in our community again.

Commissioner of highways, E. E. Vincent was busy the fore part of the week posting notices of the closing of the township roads to heavy traffic. This is the earliest that the ban has been put upon the use of the roads and is due to the spring weather which prevailed throughout the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boyle motored to Ransom Wednesday where they were called owing to the death of Mrs. Boyle's brother, Robert Danther. The young man, who was but nineteen years of age, had many acquaintances in this vicinity having visited here on many occasions, and it is with regret that we see him passing.

Ernest Steinke was in town Wednesday getting things in readiness to leave the Zapf farm for March first and move back to the vicinity of Earlville. The place will be occupied by a son-in-law of John Florcheutz.

James Devine and William Gehant motored to Mendota Wednesday where they called upon friends.

E. E. Vincent was a business caller in Dixon Monday.

The wellmen were here from La-Moille Tuesday and let the casings down into the well again. The pump jack was also put into place and the well was in perfect working order once more. The small well at the elevator has been supplying the village with water during the time that the village well was broken down.

Alphonse and Ralph Lauer were here from Sublette Wednesday calling upon friends.

Miss Evelyn Chaon, Lionel Chaon Rockford Sunday where they called and Oliver Gehant, Jr. motored to upon friends.

John T. Burns was here from Amboy the fore part of the week posting sale bills.

Oliver Chaon had a sample of the botts which he collected behind his horses following the treatment which many of our farmers are taking advantage of. In some instances there were worms measuring five inches long together with the red parasites which attach themselves to the lining of the stomach of the horse. In one case there was a half pint jar gathered from one horse.

Otto Haub and Miss Margaret Henkel were in Mendota Saturday calling upon friends.

Ray Francis' bowling team came up from Mendota Monday evening and played the local town team losing by a score of 104 pins. The scores were as follows:

George Glaser of near Harmon and John Maheffey of Dixon were here Tuesday and visited with old friends and former neighbors.

Many of our people motored to the Eddie Bauer sale Thursday where they attended his closing out on his farm northwest of town sale. Eddie has decided to move up March first.

John Dinges shipped a truckload of hogs and cattle to Chicago market Friday evening.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. John Untz gathered at their home last Thursday evening where they pleasantly surprised Mrs. Untz, it being the occasion of her seventy-eighth birthday. They brought in many goodies and a dainty luncheon followed an evening's entertainment of card playing. The affair will be long remembered by Mrs. Untz.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sheridan were the victims of an auto accident Monday while returning from Mendota. Their car collided with a motorist at the high railroad crossing between here and Mendota. None of the occupants of either car were injured, although it was necessary to tow both cars to a garage for repairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gehant motored to Amboy Saturday where they delivered a large number of eggs to the hatchery.

Peter Freidlein was here from the county line Saturday and called upon friends.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Bennehoff were here from Amboy Sunday and visited at the home of her mother, Mrs.

Phelan.

The Second Forester bowling tournament will commence at the alleys on next Monday evening. This time it will be a contest between the married men and the single men and no doubt will cause much interest. The various team and their members are as follows: National League is represented by the married men, while the American League denotes the single men.

Cardinals—Albert Gehant, Cap. Clement Dinges, George Koehler, Alex Gehant, Geo. Halmaier.

Giants—Alex Jeanblanc, Cap. John Halmaier, F. J. Morrissey, George Gehant, Gilbert Theiss.

Pirates—John Gallisath, Cap. F. J. Gehant, Jr., Louie Hoerner, Elbert Henry, Andrew Gehant.

Red Sox—J. H. Michel, Cap. Will Gehant, James Boyle, Laurn Jeanblanc, Walter Delhotel.

Cubs—H. W. Gehant, Cap. F. F. Walter, Julius Henry, Peter Dolan, Gust Gehant.

Athletics—Hubert Long, Cap. Carl

Lula Long.

Mr. and Mrs. John Erbes were in Mendota the middle of the week visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. Christina Erbes.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Morrissey of Sublette and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gehant motored to Belvidere Sunday and visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sondergerth.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wigum were here from Aurora Sunday and spent the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Oester.

A number of our candidates for township offices motored to Dixon the fore part of the week where new petitions to be filled out because most of them had secured more than the 8 per cent limit authorized by the new law.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Delhotel were here from Harmon Monday and visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Delhotel and Mrs. James Phelan.

This decision was made yesterday by a three-judge court in making permanent a temporary injunction restraining Texas authorities from interfering with production of wells owned by the plaintiffs, Eugene Constatin, J. E. Wraether and other independent operators.

The immediate result of the decision was in doubt. Governor Sterling declined to state what action he would take until he had studied the decision. Some operators expressed belief the Governor could maintain martial law, in force since last August 17, pending an appeal while others believed lifting of military rule at once was mandatory.

JUST GOOD SENSE

THE MEN AND WOMEN whose names appear on this page, and hundreds of men and women in this community who, by their evident approval, agree with the action on the part of these people, are to be congratulated on their good common sense; that sense, by the way, which has been so very uncommon in so many places. These people were indeed fortunate and intelligent, when they decided that other towns could have bank failures if they wanted them. Dixon did not want any and is not going to have any.

The cure was simple. All great things are. All in the world this community needed to do to preserve our banks was exactly nothing---except to go about our daily business in the regular and ordinary way. The result, two good banks, no uncertainty, no fear, no unrest to waste the energy needed to live properly, sanely and wisely. Its all over in Dixon. Let's go to work.

STATEMENT OF DEPOSITORS TO DIXON BANKS' OFFICIALS---

We know that we have two of the best banks in Illinois. We are not unmindful that too many communities have in this period of unrest ruined their banks, and as a result, themselves, by the withdrawing of money for no useful purpose. We are not going to do that.

Having full confidence in the stability of your banks, and of your ability to properly manage them, we hereby voluntarily agree and pledge ourselves not to withdraw from our respective accounts any money for the purpose of hoarding the same, and we further hereby agree and pledge ourselves to continue making our respective deposits in the regular course of business.

WHITNEY FILLY, TOP FLIGHT, IS DERBY CANDIDATE

Recalls Victory Scored By Regret From That Farm
Back In '15

New York, Feb. 20.—(UP)—The scene stretches back 17 years when Churchill Downs resounded to the roar of a crowd that greeted the first filly ever to win the Kentucky Derby, "Regret," the dainty filly from William Whitney's stable, having pranced home in the lead.

In the intervening 17 years masculine supremacy has reigned. But this year another filly and one which will carry the same colored silks as "Regret" heads the list of 115 nominations to the 58th renewal of America's race classic. Top Flight, champion of the two-year-olds last year with a money record of $219,000 won, is first off in the nominations made public today. The race is May 7.

Whitney is the grandson of William Whitney, who raced the first filly to victory in the derby in 1915. The younger Whitney retains the silks of his grandfather and, sentimentally, also on two-year-old records. Top Flight is called upon to do what no other filly has done since "Regret's" day.

But there is to be no walkaway for this game maiden. The Greentree stables of Mrs. Payne Whitney, whose Twenty Grand won in 1931 and established a track record, has nominated six possible starters; E. R. Bradley's Belair stud has named four; three D's Stock Farm has named four; and three each have been named by C. V. Whitney, Brookmade stable and Mrs. John Hay Whitney.

Top Flight was the undisputed champion of her division last year. She met and vanquished all comers, setting a new mark for juvenile earnings.

In the Belmont Futurity, her richest race, she carried 127 pounds, the highest impost allowed one of her sex and proved her greatness by a sparkling triumph over the best of her male contemporaries. She is favorite in all winter-book betting.

Tom Healy, veteran trainer of the C. V. Whitney stable, thinks very highly of Top Flight. Just prior to the Belmont Futurity last September he said:

"She's the finest filly I've ever handled, and I believe the equal to 'Regret.'"

Tick On, which came from behind and only missed overtaking Top Flight in the Pimlico Futurity last November, should prove a worthy rival. The winner of the Hopsif Stakes at Saratoga for Mrs. Louis G. Kaufman's Loma stable put up a brilliant finish in the ancient Maryland fixture.

So convinced was Max Hirsch, trainer of Tick On, that his colt could master Top Flight that he issued a challenge for a match race. Owing to the arduous campaign his charge had undergone, however, Healey elected to wait until the youngsters had passed their third milestone. It is quite likely therefore that the Derby will assume the aspect of a match race between the two.

On Post, which like Tick On, is by that good sire, On Watch, has also been named by the Loma Stable. John J. Robinson's Lucky Tom, winner of the Grand Union Hotel stakes at Saratoga rules third choice. He has filled out nicely over the winter and has been sweeping all before him in New Orleans. Renaissance may be sent to the post as a running mate.

Burning Mate, a fleet-footed son of Big Blaze from the Shandon Farm, is another strong possibility. Winning six of his 12 starts, including the Post and Paddock Stakes at Arlington Park, the western colt earned $5,625, placing him second on the list of 2-year-old money winners for the year. He has yet to prove his ability to go a route.

Following is the alphabetical list of nominees:

Adobe Post, Air Pilot, Allenfern, Barashkova, Barcelona Pete, Batterling Ram, Bay Angel, Bert John, Big Beau, Black Board, Black Powder, Blue Arab, Border Warrant, Bratton Mint, Brother Joe, Bubble Up, Burgo King, Burning Blaze, Buster Moon, Zyzant, Camel, Camp Douglas, Cathop, Cee Tee, Clotho, Cold Check, Crystal Prince, Curacao, Defer, Delivered, Depart, Depression, Durango, Dyak, Easy, Economic, Ender, Knight, Epidemic, Etcetera, Faleno, Flaunt Flying Boy, Footpad, Gallant Sir, Good Sport.

BOWLING NEWS

By EDWARD WORLEY

Belier's Loafers outwinded their opponents, the Highway Cafe Monday night and won all three games. Frank Cleary is now possessor of both high individual series and single game for the Commercial League this far.

H's big series of 659 and single count of 238 idled the opposing team to a slow pace, and added the necessary zip to the winning team.

The Belier team now have a decided hold on third place in team standings. Cleary takes first place from Frank Kness with his big series of 659, and now holds an average of 195.1 for the 6 games rolled.

The Walnut Grove Products took another decided jump Monday night as the Walnut Grovers took three from the league leading the Dixon Fruit Co. quintet. Along with winning three the Walnut Grovers rolled the highest team total for three games, with 2996, which takes that honor from the Dixon Fruit Company, who formerly held 2992 as high. They also possess high team single game with 1022 rolled last week.

High series of 603 and high single game of 226 were contributed by Ed Worley of the Walnut Grove five. Worley is in second place in team standing with 166.4. Ed Detweiler holds third place with 161.1. Forest Suter fourth with 160.1 and Frank Kness fifth with 175.11.

The Manhattan Cafe won the first and second contests with the Bootery Tuesday night by rolling games of 941-882-924 to total 2847. Fritz Hoffman rolled high series of 532 and also high single game of 199. The Bootery is matched up with the Walnut Grove Products next Tuesday night and are out to win a set.

THE NEW FOOTBALL RULES

Sketches Show How Safety Measures Adopted Are Supposed to Work

One of the new rules provides that when hard substances are used in construction of thigh guards, shin guards and braces, they must be padded with felt, foam rubber, or some other soft substance, and is meant to reduce the number of injuries caused in the past by such equipment as leg pads, that often were hard as steel.

The rule providing that a substitute may enter the game in the period subsequent to his retirement is aimed at the danger of leaving groggy men in the game on the chance that they may recover more rest. The rule should provide more rest for the players, and has been hailed by nearly all the coaches as a real benefit for colleges with very small squads.

Under the new rules, five men of the receiving team must stand on the 45-yard line, 15 yards from the kicker, who may place-kick, punt, or dropkick. This is meant to abolish the flying wedge, shown below, that is formed when players could run back and set up a triangular interference around the ball carrier; it often resulted in injuries to tacklers in this path.

In 1932 the ball will be dead when any part of the ball carrier's body, except his hands or feet, touches the ground. That is expected to make the referee's decision that a man is down almost automatic. It is meant to prevent crawling which led to piling up of players on the body of the man they were trying to stop.

The new safety legislation emphasizes the previous ruling prohibiting the flying tackle, pictured above, when a man could leave his feet, hurling his body at a ball carrier. The flying block, shown above, also has been forbidden. The flying blocker, forming interference for a ball carrier, is pictured hurling himself at a would-be tackler.

Women's Club Notes

The first garden meeting of the season will be held Monday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes. No tie the change in place. The program will be presented by the Department of Gardens, Mrs. Grace Breunier, chairman. The chief feature of the program will be a talk by C. E. Yale, Lee County farm advisor on "Principles of Landscape Gardening." Mr. Yale has devoted considerable attention to the subject of home-plantings and his subject seems very appropriate to open the season's garden work. Special music is being arranged by Mrs. Moore. Every member is urged to be present and bring guests that are interested in gardening and plant- ing.

F. W. Henke, Pastor

Priscilla Club Entertains The ladies of the Priscilla Club entertained their husbands and gentlemen friends with a six-thirty o'clock scramble dinner Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes. About forty folks enjoyed the dinner. The evening was spent playing cribbage and bridge. At bridge J. W. Cover and Mrs. L. T. Hanson were first prize winners.

The dinner committee comprised: Mrs. Durkes, Mrs. Vera Cross, Mrs. Mae Gross, Mrs. Alice Lott. The entertainment committee was Mrs. Grace Breunier and Mrs. William Crawford. The school teachers were guests.

Home Talent Play

"The Deacon's Second Wife," a home talent play given by the Haus- en School Community Club was given Thursday and Friday nights. The crowd was larger Friday night but both nights were fairly well attended. This club put on a play last year and were so well pleased with the results that they repeated their efforts this year. Even though they only made expenses they enjoyed the social part of the rehears- als and surely that in itself was bet- ter than staying home evenings worrying about the depression. They all worked hard to make the play a success and are entitled to much credit. Something worth while to work for is a splendid thing these days.

Birthday Surprise

Monday evening Miss Eunice Mil- ler was completely surprised, the event being her birthday anniver- sary. Members of the Hausen Com- munity club who put on the home talent play were guests of the party. Mrs. Foster Mattern and Mrs. Ster- ling Wilson were the instigators, which assured its success from the very beginning. Eunice was enjoyed at which Miss Miller won first favor and Ernest Eich was favored with the consolation prize. Sand- wiches, pickles, cake, coffee and ice cream were served. Miss Miller was presented with an electric lamp. The guests departed at a late hour, wishing Eunice many happy re- turns of the day.

POET'S CORNER

IN MEMORY OF KENNETH CHURCH

The throngs were gathering in Heaven. It was festival day up there. The guards were taking their places. To perform their duties with care.

But the number had grown much greater. Since all had assembled before. And an extra guard was needed. To stand at the entrance door.

They were chosen for valor and bravery. And a courage that's faithful and true. For a service that's given untiring. No rank but the highest would do.

So God glanced down on the earth below. With His all seeing power from above. And whispered "Kenneth come hither. To watch over My people I love."

And so in a moment he left us. To dwell in that happier land. With never a thot or look backward. Obeying his Master's command.

His friends are all lonesome without him. But then we've a comfort to share. He's watching and guarding the safety Of all of our loved ones up there.

A Friend.

BANK BY MAIL

There are many arguments in favor of bank- ing by mail. Much time can be saved by transact- ing banking business in this manner, and your de- posits may be arranged at any time of the day when you have leisure to do so. If you write with ink the words "For deposit only" above your en- dorsment of checks or drafts, it will prove an ef- fective guarantee against loss or fraud. There is more risk in carrying checks endorsed in blank to and from the Bank than there is to mail them en- dorsed "For deposit only." We are always pleased to have you call, but will give all business for- ward to us by mail prompt, careful attention.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

BY THE UNITED PRESS

Washington, Feb. 20--Handshaking is a political institution almost as old as elections, but its wear and tear on Presidents is appalling. Lesser figures, hoping some day to occupy that gracious Pennsylvania Avenue mansion, can be fairly promiscuous in grasping fingers with every casual passerby. Some have been known to pull themselves to vast official heights by the right hand fingers of their fellow man.

In the White house, however, one's viewpoint is likely to change. With increased transportation facilities increasing thousands come annually to the Capital. Each seems to cherish the happy ambition of grasping the President's right hand. A large percentage achieve the goal.

In addition, the Chief Executive is obliged by time-honored custom to hold a series of receptions annually which a thousand to 2500 persons attend.

Many subterfuges have been sought to avoid this painful ordeal. President Coolidge, according to an observer of his activities, would lower his eyes at each approaching candidate and, by dint of long practice, succeed in grasping the visitor's finger tips.

It did not result in the most satisfying handshake, but it prevented the "pump-handle" type of hand-shaker from running off with any of the presidential fingers.

Once sure of his hold, Mr. Coolidge would look the visitor in the eyes, greet him, shake his hand and let him pass on.

President Hoover is less strategic. He stands his ground firmly and takes his punishment. The hearty extended hand is met half way, sometimes farther. If a particularly heavy punning causes him almost to lose his balance, he gives no indication of annoyance.

Sometimes after a reception to the Army, the Navy and the Marines notably red-blooded handshakers, or to other groups of forthright aggregations, his hand is bruised and swollen.

The only notice he takes of it, it is said, is to retire and soak the offending member in a healing antiseptic lotion. At the next reception he has to be back for more.

The recent announcement that Mr. Hoover will discontinue the handshakes to delegates of conventions of one sort or another is reported as prompted by something more than the usual fatigue.

The George Washington Bicentennial is about to open and more than 160 organizations are scheduled to hold conventions here. To extend the handshake courtesy to one would demand a similar privilege to all. The inroad on the President's time when scores, and hundreds of problems call for consideration would prove too great.

Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, sister of Vice-President Curtis, has returned from a speaking tour of the middle west, a full-blown political flower.

Mrs. Gann was at the White House Friday for her second conference in two days with Walter Newton, political and legislative secretary to President Hoover. She said she soon would begin another swing of political speeches in her effort to "resell Hoover" to the women.

Mrs. Gann's next scheduled speech is before the Business and Professional Women's Republican Club of Boston on March 15.

Known to the public heretofore chiefly as Curtis' hostess and for her rivalry with Alice Roosevelt Longworth over social precedence, Mrs. Gann has emerged as a political spell-binder of parts.

At least, so say administration leaders. Her speaking tour took her into half a dozen states where she addressed countless women, and she reported her results to the White House like any seasoned trouper.

"She made a hit," one administration leader commented. "She has made a success as a political speaker, and I wouldn't be surprised to see her making other trips. She is liked by the women wherever she goes, and that is an asset in politics."

Mrs. Gann herself gleaned the impression that the women she saw still were for Mr. Hoover. She spoke in Topeka, Kan., Omaha, Neb., Chicago and other cities, and reported: "The women everywhere I went were for the President. I can't tell you what I reported to the President; you'll have to find that out in there--pointing to Mr. Hoover's office--but I can tell you the women are still enthusiastic."

It was her first baptism of political fire, and to all accounts she loved it. Hitherto her role of hostess has obscured the fact that she was no doubt doing plenty of observing. Now she is putting that observation to work to keep Mr. Hoover and her brother in office.

The dime-a-dance girl

BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Beautiful ELLEN ROSSITER, a singer in Barclay's Department Store, works at night as a dance hall hostess at Dreamland. She lives with her extravagant mother, MOLLY ROSSITER, her elder sister, MYRA, and her young brother, MIKE.

STEVEN BARCLAY, 37 and Ellen's employer, loves the girl but Ellen is in love with LARRY HARROWGATE, an artist. She has met at Dreamland. She loses her heart to him in spite of the fact that he is engaged to ELIZABETH BOWEN, a debutante.

Ellen is unwilling to wound Barclay but when scandalous gossip is circulated at the store, she determines to see him no more. However, Molly Rossiter, anxious for Ellen to marry a rich husband, invites Barclay to dinner. Without Ellen's knowledge, Molly borrows money to make the apartment more attractive and to buy a most expensive food.

When the girl learns this she is furious. She and Molly go to the kitchen to prepare dinner while MYRA, BEATrice and STEADY, MYRA's dance, entertain Barclay.

NO GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XVII

THE Rossiter ice-box was stuffed almost to the bursting point. Certainly Molly had stinted on nothing. There was pate, there was lobster, there were two plump, yellow ducks--and duck at $1.75 a pound. There were artichokes and avocados. There were all the things that should never have been included in a simple home dinner.

But Ellen squared her jaw and flew about the heated kitchen, growing hotter and crosser each minute. Perched at the kitchen table daintily shelling peas, Molly looked cool and comfortable and maddeningly satisfied with herself. From time to time she would hum a little tune. Then, glimpsing her daughter at the black face, she would halt and virtuously continue shelling the peas. Molly was convinced everything would work out for the best.

Except for decorative purposes the colored maid was entirely useless. She did not set the table with a great flourish. She considered that with serving and washing the dishes she would have more than earned her $5 and said so. When Ellen, ignoring this disinclination toward real labor, suggested that she baste the ducks, the maid looked aggrieved and "allowed" she did only plain cooking.

"This is plain enough," said Ellen in exasperation. "You'll simply have to do it while my mother and I dress. Just open the oven every 10 minutes and ladle the drippings up with a spoon."

"All right, Miss, I'll do it. But you can't blame me if them ducks don't taste just right."

"We won't," snapped Ellen.

She grew cooler and more comfortable in the bedroom as she hung aside her business dress, went into the bathroom and cautiously bathed with due consideration for the fact that splashing water was audible in the living room. She returned to the bedroom and slipped into a clean, fresh, blue linen frock. She brushed her curling hair, powdered her flushed face and found the string of amber beads that went so well with her skin. She looked all right. The sleeveless dress, cheap as it was, was very kind to her slender youth.

"Ellen, honey," said her mother, entering, "will you fix my snaps, or are you still mad at me?"

Ellen's heart failed her. What was the use of anger, of threats, of reproaches? After a solemn talk, which took place as Ellen's fingers busied themselves with the snaps, Molly promised, as she had promised so often before, that there would be no more surprises. But she looked unusually sobered. By telling her of the gossip at the store Ellen had succeeded in frightening the harum-scarum, little Irish woman.

"They're just jealous," she declared. "If I were you I'd just tell that Mrs. Bondy that he was here for dinner tonight. That'd stop their mouths. I've half a notion to go down there and tell--"

"The best thing I can do," Ellen interrupted warningly, "is what I am doing--say nothing."

"Well--maybe you're right, but I'd like to give two or three of those girls a good shaking just the same!"

TOGETHER they went into the living room. Bert was engaged in a long and technical discussion of the comparative merits of the Yankees and the Giants. If Barclay were bored, his courteous, interested air concealed the fact. He stood up quickly as Ellen and Molly appeared.

"Well, dinner is almost ready--at last," Molly announced. "I hope you're not all starved. Where in the world do you suppose Mike is?"

"I'll go find him," offered Myra. The room was breathlessly hushed and every one was politely dissembling interest in the sharp, delicious odor of roasting duck.

"You haven't met the pride of the family," Ellen remarked smilingly to Barclay.

"Oh yes I have. I met him in the hall," Barclay affirmed.

Ellen did not know what her brother had been looking guilty for, a small-boy way, but she did think that. Could Mike have said something to him? Myra had started for the door when Ellen suddenly determined to learn what had occurred in the hall. She spoke hurriedly and definitely.

"You go wash up, Myra. I'll gather Mike in."

She was out the door and running down the stairs. When she reached the street she saw that practically all the youngsters in the neighborhood--and they were many--had gathered before the apartment door almost blocking it. A few stared with wistful longing at the sleek black limousine from which the alertly rigid chauffeur barred them. But the majority, screaming and vociferous, were peering up the lamp-lighted street.

"Have any of you seen Mike Rossiter?" she inquired, wondering just what new game they were playing.

"Sure," half a dozen voices chorused shrilly. She picked out from the resultant confusion the information that Mike was giving Peter Rafferty a ride on his new bicycle.

Just then she saw Mike. He was strutting along proudly beside a shining wheel, calling out caution and advice to the tow-headed youngster who was pedaling. Ellen knew all at once why Barclay had looked so guilty. This was impossible!

"Mike Rossiter, come here this minute!" she called.

THE youngsters made way for him. Peter Rafferty slid from the seat and scuttled down the street like a small, active crab. Mike, unconscious of the calamity about to fall, carefully wheeled his new possession over the curb and up on the sidewalk. Ellen had never seen such glory as was on his transfigured face.

"Mr. Barclay gave it to me," he explained in a hushed voice, caressing with his grubby hand the shining mud-guards.

"But, darling, we can't let you keep it," Ellen said faintly.

The blow struck. Mike's face turned red; his blue eyes looked surprised, bewildered, confused, hurt and angry, in rapid succession. For a moment he gazed at her in appalled silence; then burst into loud and frantic wails. So overwhelming was his grief and rage that Ellen was afraid it would result in his usual upset stomach.

She gathered in his shaking body, conscious that the entire juvenile population of the block was watching.

"I can't do anything," Mike sobbed. "I can't have anything. I promised all the other boys a ride. Mother'd let me have it. I'll be so good Ellen; I'll do everything you tell me."

"But Mike--"

At that moment the maid made a blessed interruption, an interruption which Ellen felt to be almost worth the $5 she was to receive. She clumped into the room to announce dinner was ready.

WASHINGTON

HIS LIFE STORY IN PICTURES, COMMEMORATING THE 200TH ANNIVERSARY OF HIS BIRTH.

Washington was again appointed head of the army when war threatened in 1798.

He exposed himself on horseback in cold and snow and was attacked with quinsy or acute laryngitis.

Despite the best available treatment, he died quietly at 10 p. m. on Dec. 14, 1799.

By NEA Service— Life as a gentleman-farmer, was somewhat more secluded than in his earlier, active days, but it occupied George Washington's last two and a half years.

He devoted most of his time to his family, farm affairs and care of his slaves.

Prospect of war with France briefly interrupted his retirement in 1798, when he was appointed commander in chief of the provisional army. But the war crisis faded away.

After riding horseback for several hours in severe cold and snow Dec. 12, 1799, Washington returned to Mt. Vernon exhausted and the following day was attacked with a quinsy or acute laryngitis. He received every available medical treatment, from four bleedings to gargles of "molasses, vinegar and butter," but sank quickly.

Washington remained character- istically serene until the end. "I die hard, but I am not afraid to go," he said.

As death grew closer, he added, "I feel myself going. I thank you for your attentions; but I pray you to take no more trouble about me. Let me go off quietly. I cannot last long."

His death at 10 P. M., December 14, 1799, plunged the nation into mourning.

The entire country felt, in John Lee's famous words, that Wash- ington was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

$3,500,000,000 Is New Currency Limit

Washington, Feb. 19 —(AP)— A limit of $3,500,000,000 in new currency is set by Secretary Mills as the amount which could be made available under the Glass-Steagall credit expansion bill before the Senate.

The Treasury head does not say that this total of new currency will be put into circulation, however.

Writing to Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.), he fixed the amount of "free gold" now required as reserve against note issues at $430,000,000.

Oregon — A committee of twelve members of the Knights of Pythias from various Illinois lodges met in Oregon last Sunday to consider this city for a place to hold an out-door gathering of members next July.

One of the chief drawing points to this section was that Oregon is rich in historical background.

On Monday February 15, the Fortnightly Club sponsored a gay "birthday party." It took form of a luncheon and each member was seated at the table representing her birthmonth. Mrs. Dodden presided during the program which consisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. Stiles; piano solo by Miss Evelyn Swingley;

Three young ladies put their heads together...

THEY WERE TALKING ABOUT SMOKING... whether girls should or should not smoke; but it came out that all three of them had been smoking for a long time. They were asking each other what made a good cigarette. And after discussing one thing and another, they agreed that a cigarette should be milder. They thought also that it should taste just right—that is, not over-sweet, but on the other hand, not bitter—just sweet enough. And everybody, they said, wants anything that is placed in the mouth just as pure as can be. Then they began to think what cigarette, if any, filled this bill; and agreed that CHESTERFIELD was milder—tasted better—and was pure. The girls were satisfied, because "They Satisfy."
